Charity Ball to Be Magnificent Affair McMenamin.

The annual ball in aid of St. Vin-out's orphanage is always the affair in Catholic society which is anticipated over all eise the year around. So high has the standard become that it requires not a little work on the part of the committee in whater to meet expertations year by year. In spite of the Christmas rush, the women find time to work day in and day out to ad-vance the interests of the bail. This Obituary.

Intolerable Conditions.

To make the applications as intended by the French minister of worship, M. Briand, would mean submitting to a moral and material situation which is unbearable to the clergy of France, especially as the churches, places consecrated to God would be regulated in a worse manner than the dame halls and the officiating priests would be reduced to the humiliating condition of being simply tolerated. These unjust and dishonerable regulations are aggravated by those regarding the episcopal residences, presbyteries and seminaries, and therefore, accepting the terms of M. Briand's circular would have meant betraying the vital interests of religion.

The holy see ordered the clergy to refuse to make the application prescribed by the law of 181, not on account of the urplications in M. Briand's circular.

A dispatch was received from Cardinal Rehard thanking the pope for placing the palace of the unclature at his dispersal and assuring the pontiff of his unabled courage.

CHURCHES WELL FILLED.

Front Gates Closed, but Catholics

Entered at Side Portals.

Paris, Dec. 12.—There was an impressive response this morning to the ciergy's appeal to their parishioners to attend the first masses celebrated outside of the pale of the law. A correspondent of the Associated Press visited a dozen churches, including Notre Dame, Des Victories, St. Germain d'Auxerroiz, where the signal for the St. Bartholomew massacre was given: St. Roch, the Madelaine and St. Augustine, Everywhere it was the same story. The front gates of the churches were closed, but the Catholios, by the grey light of dawn, were streaming through the side portals. The interiors of the buildings were well filled, in several places there was music, but nowhere was there the slightest and approximation of the churches to prevent possible disorder, while police officers in plain clothes were on duty inside to note the infractions of the law, taking the names of the officiating priests and approximating the number of those present, with the object of making reports to the justices of police.

Three Notable Exceptions. Entered at Side Portals.

Three Notable Exceptions.

Formal charges were entered wherever mass was celebrated, except at the churches of St. Jean l'Evangeline and St. Blaise de Charonne and Pere La Chaise; whose parishioners, following the example of the first mentioned church, made application yesterday evening to noid services under the law of 1881.

The vicar of St. Blaiss de Charonne when induced by his parishioners to take the step, said;

Early dispatches from the departments say that wherever mass was celebrated charges were drawn and summer than the said of the
